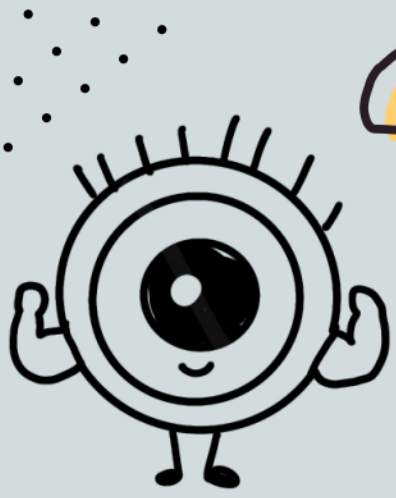
Key steps of patching

1

An orthoptist prescribes the patching treatment. This includes the duration of patching per day, the eye to be patched, and any adjustments based on individual progress.



2

The patch should be worn on the child's strong eye. Don't patch the child's weak eye by mistake.

3

Wearing the patch consistently, every day: compliance is key to success! Parents and caregivers play a crucial role in encouraging and reminding children to wear the patch as instructed.

4

Remember: patching treatment takes a long time to work. Make sure you do it every day and don't expect too much to change all at once.

5

You can keep track of your child's progress using the Amblio app!

Note: The effectiveness of patching depends on various factors like the child's age, the severity of amblyopia, and underlying causes. Regular follow-up visits with the eye doctor are essential to monitor progress and adjust the treatment plan as needed.
